What does your mobile, tablet or camera mean to you?
How would it affect you if suddenly your mobile didn't work?
How much to replace your phone if water damaged?
Are you in a complex phone contract?

Smartphones and tablets are increasingly a critical part of our lives. We use them to manage all our contacts, our diaries, emails, photographs, social media, bank accounts, games and 100s of other applications. So damaging it with water or other liquids can be a disaster. Even if you have insurance there will usually be an excess to pay for a replacement handset, but more importantly what about all the information stored within it?

A recent survey to 2000 iPhone users was carried out by AF International. Out of those surveyed 4.8% had to renew their iPhone due to water damage.

- 35% dropped their iPhone in the toilet
- 30% spilt a drink on their iPhone
- 15% dropped their iPhone into the bath
